Note: In previous versions of this table, if a head of household was not identified, the race/ethnicity was reported for the oldest tenant. If more than one head was reported, the oldest member was included in these tabulations. This version only includes household members that are reported as the head of household. If multiple heads are reported, all are included. Hawaii, Massachusetts, Northern Marianas Islands and New York reported no heads of household for 3%, 2%, 12% and 7% of occupied units, respectively. Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee reported more than one head of household for 17%, 30% and 15% of occupied units, respectively. All other states reported exactly one head of household per unit for over 99% of occupied units.

<sup>1</sup> Previous tabulations of LIHTC tenant data reported rental assistance based only on reported Total Rental Assistance. This table differs by considering reported amounts for Total Rental Assistance, Federal Rental assistance and Non-Federal Rental Assistance. Thus, if Total Rental Assistance and Federal Rental assistance are not reported, but a positive amount of Non-federal Rental Assistance is reported, the unit would be counted in the ">$0" column, rather than in the "Not Reported" column.

Note: The calculation of this table has changed from previous versions.

This version includes tenants with a reported positive amount of Total Rental Assistance, even if reported Federal Rental Assistance (FRA) is $0. Previous versions only included tenants with a reported positive amount of FRA.
